

Contents

1	Introduction: multinational enterprises, innovation and geography in today's globalized world	1
PART I MULTINATIONALS, LOCATION AND INNOVATION: FOUNDATIONS AND EXTENSIONS
2	Old and new(er) theories of multinational enterprises: selected perspectives and the search for location	33
3	Firm location behaviour in theory: extensions to multiplant and multinational firms	68
4	The sources of innovation: the firm and the local system	136
PART II MULTINATIONALS AND THE CHANGING ECONOMIC GEOGRAPHY OF GLOBALIZATION
5	Multinationals, variety of geographies and evolution	193
6	Globalization and multinationals in a historical process	244
7	Multinationals, connectivity and global cities	284
8	Multinationals, emerging economies and the changing economic geography	320
9	Conclusions: review of the arguments and implications for future research	353
	Bibliography	379
	Index	457